CUA BOARD OF DIRECTORS' AND COMMITTEE CHAIRS' PRIMER: ROLES AND RESPONSIBILITIES AT BOARD MEETINGS

Preamble

Congratulations on your leadership appointment to the Canadian Urological Association. Without the hard work, devotion and commitment of past and current members, the CUA would have been unable to evolve into the dynamic and thought-leading organization it is today, representing The Voice of Urology in Canada and The Voice of Urologic Oncology in Canada.

In order to smooth your transition into your role as a board member or committee chair the following general information is provided regarding role responsibilities and expectations related to board activities. Additional information regarding your specific committee or officer duties can be found in the relevant section within this CUA Policy Book.

Board of Directors

Composition

The board of directors of the CUA consists of 14 voting members:

1. Nine (9) officers which include: the President, Immediate Past-President, President- Elect, Vice-President, Vice-President (Communications), Vice-President (Education), Treasurer, Secretary and the Chair of the Community Urology Committee (collectively known as the Executive Committee)
2. Five (5) Directors which include: Members-at-Large (MALS) representing 5 geographic regions

In addition, committee chairs are invited to attend board meetings and summarize their groups' activities including:

1. Editor-in-Chief of the CUAJ
2. Guidelines
3. Patient Information
4. Health Policy
5. Community Urologists
6. Postgraduate Training
7. History
8. Scientific Program Committee
9. Canadian Undergraduate Urology Curriculum Committee
10. Continuing Professional Development
11. Resident and Fellow Committee
12. CUA Scholarship Foundation

Of note, chairs of the above listed committees (with the exception of the Community Urology Committee) attend board meetings in a non-voting capacity. Only voting members (executive and MALS) can propose or second a motion.

Board Meeting Frequency

Each year, 2 in-person meetings of the board are held; a winter board meeting usually held in Montreal in late January or early February, and a summer board meeting held at the CUA annual meeting venue. The winter Board is typically an all-day Saturday meeting. The summer Board meeting usually begins two days before the annual meeting.

Managing Conflicts of Interest (COIs)

Prior to each board meeting all officers, MALS and committee chairs are required to update their conflicts of interests (COI). To aid in this process the following information is provided:

Defining Conflicts of Interest (COIs):

COIs refer to relationships with individuals, organizations or corporations that may result in a real or perceived influence on one's judgment or decisions. COIs may be financial or intellectual in nature, and may lead to circumstances where the relationship in question may compete or conflict with the board member's duties on behalf of the CUA.

The CUA recognizes that board members may be involved with other individuals, organizations or entities in relationships that could be perceived as in potential conflict with their CUA role. In order to assist board members in handling potential conflicts the following information is provided.

Members must avoid placing themselves in a situation where their personal interest is in conflict with their obligations as members of the board. Members must declare to the CUA any interest he has in an enterprise, association or company that may place him in a situation of conflict of interest an of any right he may set up against it, indicating their nature and value where applicable. The declaration of interest is recorded in the minutes of the proceeding of the board of directors.

Examples of COIs:

1. Commercial interests (ownership, investments, paid salary or consulting fees, in-kind contributions or royalties from pharmaceutical companies or device manufacturers in Urology)
2. Intellectual interests (board membership, editorial position or holding an office with another healthcare organization)

Managing COIs:

Disclosure is the key strategy in avoiding negative outcomes related to real or perceived COIs. The requirement of board members to document all disclosures of interest is mandated by the CUA's bylaws. It is the duty of all CUA board members to update their COI declarations on-line twice yearly; in December in preparation for the Winter Board and in May prior to the Summer Board meeting. As well, should a subject arise in a board meeting where a real or perceived COI may occur, it is up to the board member to verbally announce their conflict and recuse themselves should a formal vote be required. When in doubt about a potential conflict, it is better to make the disclosure. When questions arise, around a potential COI, the CUA Secretary may also be contacted to assist in the decision-making.

Board members' attention in addressing potential COIs will ensure the CUA is viewed as an organization that is transparent, proactive in its approach and in compliance with legal and regulatory standards.

Reimbursement

All board members serve without remuneration with the exception of reimbursement of travel related expenses as described below.

Travel expenses and accommodation to the winter Board and summer Board are covered by the CUA. It is required that board members attending the annual meeting are also present for the summer Board meeting in order to have expenses reimbursed. All receipts must be submitted within 6 months of the event or, will not be reimbursed.

Board Meeting Expectations and Code of Conduct

- All officers, MALS and committee chairs are expected to attend board meetings.
- If you are a committee chair, you will be expected to provide written reports to both the winter Board and summer Board meetings, which should be submitted well in advance of each meeting to the secretary. The due date for receipt of reports will be announced to allow an appropriate length of time to prepare the report.
- Unless otherwise informed, you will also be expected to attend both board meetings in person or via teleconference to present your reports.
- Every effort should be made to be on time for meetings.
- If you will need to leave before the conclusion of any board meeting, please inform the secretary of your departure time.
- Board meetings are a forum to discuss the business of the association. All board members are encouraged and expected to participate in discussions, even non-voting members.
- No one however should dominate discussions, and deliberations should be conducted in a respectful manner.
- As per the CUA Bylaws, a board member may be removed from office before the completion of their term should there be sufficient grounds to do so. The following infractions would be grounds to consider dismissal:
 - . Absence from 2 consecutive board meetings (in-person or electronic);
 - . Declares bankruptcy;
 - . Imprisonment;
 - . Having being declared incapable by a court in Canada or in another country;
 - . Failure to satisfy the role requirements of the appointed position;
 - . In this situation, dismissal would be considered by the voting members of the board and determined by a majority vote.

Nominating Committee

Terms of Reference

Mandate

Each year, the mandate of the Nominating Committee is to consider those individuals whose names have been proposed by the membership to fill openings on the CUA Board of Directors and Committee Chair positions. The work of this committee is very important as the decisions made have a significant impact on the activities of the CUA Board for years to come. The full terms of reference for the Nominating Committee are outlined in the CUA Policy Book and are summarized below:

Composition

The Nominating Committee shall consist of seven (7) voting members comprised of the Immediate Past-President of the Association (chair), two (2) other past-presidents of the Association, and four (4) Members-at-large (MALs). The President and the Secretary of the CUA both serve as ex-officio members without voting privileges.

In the absence of the Immediate Past-President, the President of the Association will perform the role as committee chair. The chair will only vote in the event of a tie. The two (2) other past-presidents of the Association will be chosen by the chair following the onset of their term. In addition, the four (4) MALs shall be elected for a two (2) year term, non-renewable, such that there are two (2) newly elected annually. To be considered, the MALs must be Active or Senior Members, and have not been prior Officers of the Association. They shall not seek or accept to be nominated as a Director or Chair of standing committees or chairs of the Administrative and Scientific Councils of the Foundation, during the term of membership on the Nominating Committee; The MALs will be nominated by the membership. Potential candidates will be considered by the Nominating Committee with recommendation(s) included in the proposed slate of officers for presentation at the Annual General Meeting (AGM). Any voting Member present at the AGM is entitled to make alternative nominations. Additional nominations from the floor of the AGM, however, will only be considered if the name(s) proposed had previously been brought forward to the Nominating Committee.

Nomination Process

The CUA Corporate Office on behalf of the Nominating Committee shall make a call for nominations from the membership. The notification includes a deadline of 60 days in advance of the AGM for the acceptance of nominations for all open positions. After the closure date for nominations, the chair will convene a meeting by teleconference to review the list of nominees. The CUA Corporate Office will obtain and provide a summary of each nominee's CUA contributions and their CVs, which will be circulated to all Nominating Committee members before the call. In addition, an in-person meeting must be conducted during the CUA annual meeting prior to the AGM in order to finalize the slate that will be presented. While individual chairs may propose various methods of ranking candidates, the ultimate goal should be to choose candidates based on consensus opinion rather than relying on a numerical scoring system alone.

The slate of nominations will be presented at the AGM by the Nominating Committee Chair or delegate. Any voting member (those in the active or senior categories) and present at the AGM is entitled to propose alternative nominations, however names will only be considered if the individual(s) had previously been brought forward to the Nominating Committee prior to the previously announced deadline. No new nominations will be considered after this date.

Communication

For obvious reasons the deliberations of the Nominating Committee should be considered strictly confidential. Names proposed and the Nominating Committee's recommendations should not be divulged. Should a nominee ask if he/she has been selected, it should be simply stated that until ratification of the slate at the AGM, no positions are finalized.

After the AGM, nominees who were not chosen for a position will be notified by the Nominating Committee Chair. This communication should come from the chair only. The chair will also compile a list of names of all the nominees that will be passed on to the incoming chair for future consideration.

2.1 Funding

Before accepting funding from a company, the Association's Board or Executive must conduct due diligence to satisfy itself that there is strong reason to believe that the donation, grant or sponsorship will result in benefit to the Association and to the patients and caregivers it serves. Also that the company's type of business, its corporate governance policies and its reputation in working with the Association do not present any cause for concern.

2.2 The Association will maintain its independence of action

The content of communications originating from the Association, such as patient submissions for drug reviews, policy submissions, information for patients, caregivers and the public, newsletters and presentations must be developed entirely by the Association.

2.3 The Association will maintain mutually respectful and transparent relations

- The Association will sign a written agreement with all companies outlining each partner's contribution and responsibilities. The company and the Association must agree to abide by each other's codes of conduct.
- A company's support will be acknowledged transparently and appropriately.

2.4 The Association will proactively limit influence

- The Association, where possible, should seek a diversity of funding sources and should not allow any one corporate sponsor to contribute more than 50 percent of the Association's total revenues for the year, including the value of in-kind services.

3.1 Use of the Association's name or image

The Association must be consulted whenever and wherever its name is used. Approval must be sought, in writing, for any copy or work produced which refers to an initiative of the Association that is supported by the company.

- At no time can the Association's logo be used without express written permission of the association.
- At no time can press releases be issued which refer to the Association without the Association's prior written approval. Likewise, suggested quotes can be prepared but must always be agreed to, in writing, by the Association.
- The Association retains a veto over all materials produced in connection with an initiative.

CUA Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Accessibility (EDIA) Policy

Terms of Reference

Respecting Our Members

Recent events within Canada and throughout the world have shone the spotlight on persistent gender, racial, social and cultural inequalities. National medical organizations are not exempt from perceived or real concerns about a lack of diversity or institutional biases. As an organization with a mandate to represent all of its members, the CUA has a duty to ensure a culture of respect, inclusion and fairness is demonstrated in all activities. This policy has been developed to ensure the CUA remains accountable to the members it serves.

Policy Aims

- The intent of this policy is to provide guidance to CUA members and staff to ensure that equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility (EDIA) are explicitly addressed and practiced in the governance, educational and corporate activities of the CUA
- The policy is established as a mechanism to promote equity and inclusion and to reduce structural bias, intolerance, and discrimination. The policy's directives apply to all members and staff working on behalf of the CUA
- The policy aims to ensure that CUA's processes are transparent and yield measurable outcomes, profiling the diversity and inclusivity of the medical profession in Canada and the patient population we serve
- The Association will be considerate of gender, ethnicity, religion, language, sexual orientation, age, cognitive or physical ability/disability, economic status, political affiliation and other unique characteristics of its' members
- This policy will not be employed to promote specific quotas, but will instead be used as guide to ensure that members representing all constituencies within our organization have the opportunity to participate in CUA activities that best align with their strengths, without compromising merit.

Ensuring Equity, Diversity, Inclusion and Accessibility are Imbedded in Our Organization's Culture

- The CUA will appoint a member of the Board to serve in the capacity of Equity, Diversity and Accessibility Officer whose responsibility will be as follows:
 - To report to the Board on an annual basis any ongoing or planned EDIA initiatives
 - To review metrics identified by the Board as relevant to the CUA's mission and to document adherence to this policy
- CUA will aim to use gender neutral terms when possible

- The CUA will utilize its membership database to collect and confidentially store voluntarily supplied demographic information on members. In this way, the CUA can be sure appropriate metrics and goals are reviewed and achieved
- All CUA Corporate Office staff, CUA Board Members and Annual meeting Scientific and Local Arrangements Chairs will be required to complete an on-line learning module on EDIA awareness at the beginning of their appointment
- The CUA will include educational topics in its CME offerings to highlight issues related to EDIA principles
- For Annual Meeting and virtual educational events, the CUA will strive to include representation from all membership constituencies on the planning committees
- CME events will strive when appropriate to:
 - Promote junior faculty involvement
 - Foster female involvement that reflects the growing number of female urologists training and practicing in Canada
 - Encourage and involve visible minorities
- When co-hosting or managing an event with another association/society/institution, CUA will reserve the right to refuse participation or endorsement in events that do not align with the details outlined in this policy
- The CUA will make an effort through formal and informal means to promote mentorship among all membership groups
- To ensure awareness, the CUA's Diversity, EDIA Policy will be posted on the CUA website and periodically displayed in seasonal Newsletters

Policy Review

This policy will be reviewed annually by the Board as part of the Secretary's Report to ensure the intent and application of the document remain appropriate. Revisions to the content will be presented to the membership at the Annual General Meeting as part of the Secretary's Report. The policy will be added as an appendix to the Policy Book.

POLICY BOOK: APPENDIX D

CUA Advocacy Sub-Committee

Terms of Reference

In response to the CUA membership's feedback to make advocacy a more formal, proactive focus of the organization's activities, and to support the initiative, the creation of an Advocacy Sub-Committee has been formed with the following terms of reference.

Purpose

The aim of this sub-committee of the CUA Board of Directors will be to provide guidance on the organization's advocacy efforts. Key oversight will be directed towards the following:

- Selection of relevant advocacy topics for the Board's consideration
- Creation of short and longer-term strategic plans
- Developing a communication strategy to the membership
- Review of annual budget before submission to Finance Committee
- Align the advocacy efforts with the CUA's Strategic Plan

Membership

The Advocacy Sub-Committee will consist of a chair (to be known as the CUA Chief Advocacy Officer) and the following members: CUA President, Immediate Past-President, President-Elect, CUA Secretary, Chief Executive Officer, Vice President Communications, Chair of the Health Policy Committee, Chair of the Community Urology Committee, Immediate Past-Chair/Officer of Advocacy.

The terms of office of sub-committee members will align with their other CUA roles. The Chief Advocacy Officer's term will be 2 years renewable once (4 years maximum). The Chief Advocacy Officer will be invited to the CUA Board meetings but will serve in a non-voting capacity. The immediate past-chair will serve 1 year to aid in transition for the incoming chair.

Meeting frequency

The sub-committee will meet three times per year. The first meeting will be held in conjunction with the corporate office retreat with the main purpose to determine the upcoming year's priorities and align with the incoming president's vision and goals. The second meeting will occur before the winter Board meeting and will be an opportunity to review progress on ongoing advocacy initiatives. The third meeting will be held at the CUA Annual Meeting in preparation for an update for the Annual General Meeting (AGM) of the membership. Additional meetings may be called by the chair on an ad hoc basis. Meetings may be in person or virtual.

Governance

All members will have voting rights, except the chair who will cast a vote only in the event of a tie. For the purposes of voting, quorum will consist of fifty percent (50%) of the committee's membership plus one (+1).

Responsibility and accountability

The Advocacy Sub-Committee will be accountable to the CUA Board. Observations and recommendations of this sub-committee will be brought forward to the board for final decisions and implementation. The Chief Advocacy Officer will provide a written report to the Board at the winter Board and Summer Board meetings, and may be asked to present to the Annual General Meeting as needed.

Standard Operating Procedures and Guiding Principles for the Advocacy Committee When Considering New Requests

It is anticipated that the CUA may be asked by members, patients and other third parties to support and advocate on their behalf on a variety of subjects. In order to assist the Advocacy Committee and the CUA Board of Directors in adjudicating such requests the following procedures and guiding principles will be followed:

1. The topic of an advocacy request should be on a subject matter that is within the scope of the CUA's mandate and the practice of urology within Canada.
 - a. The subject matter may relate to clinical care, research or education if urology focused
2. When considering multiple requests, topics that have a national scope would be prioritized over provincial or regional issues.
3. When considering multiple requests, topics that have a direct impact on urology patient care would be prioritized.
4. Requests for endorsement of material to be used for patient or physician advocacy efforts should be reviewed in collaboration with the Endorsement Committee.
5. Advocacy requests should be reviewed to ensure consistency with the CUA's policies on equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility.
6. When necessary, advocacy requests would be reviewed by content experts within the organization to ensure the Advocacy Committee is fully informed of the subject.
7. Should the advocacy request be granted, the requesting party will be notified in writing of the Advocacy Committee's decision and outline the following rules of engagement:
 - a. CUA should have full editorial control of any messaging or statements
 - b. CUA would have the right to determine if one of its members should serve as the spokesperson
8. The potential impact of advocacy requests on the finances and human resources of the CUA should also be considered.
9. All advocacy approvals should be reassessed annually to ensure ongoing support is justified or needed.
10. Should an advocacy request be denied, the requesting party will be notified in writing of the Advocacy Committee's decision and the reasoning behind the denial.
11. The CUA will review all requests for endorsement and will consider releasing position statements only in the case of issues that directly concern urology.

Guiding Principles for the Creation of Advocacy Statements by the CUA

Consider the appropriateness of the advocacy activity, and the CUA's role within it.

The organization is inherently apolitical and should not comment on issues of a partisan political nature.

Approach each issue with professionalism and integrity.

When considering an advocacy request CUA will be transparent by declaring any conflicts of interest. If needed, CUA will seek advice on real or perceived conflicts of interest.

Select appropriate strategies and communication channels when advocating and consider the audience to which the organization would usually speak to (i.e. members)

Advance an informed perspective based on reliable and best available evidence.

Discuss concerns, suggestions, and recommendations calmly and professionally.

Rely on persuasion rather than threats. Build on areas of consensus.

Where possible, offer multiple options and solutions for consideration.

Develop proposals that are understandable, measurable, constructive and accountable.

Remain open to the perspectives of others, even when they are contrary to our own. When providing feedback, ensure it is respectful, constructive and communicated appropriately.

Recognize that misdirected or inappropriate advocacy can be disruptive to the provision of patient care and safety, as well as hamper the functioning of the association.

Clearly distinguish when comments are made from the association or on behalf of a third party. Seek permission before commenting on behalf of another party.

Ensure no breach of patient privacy or institutional policies/codes of conduct when advocating, and ensure to respect and consider jurisdictional statutes, regulations and bylaws.

CUA Endorsment Committee

Standard Operating Procedures

July 2023

The CUA may be asked by third parties, to consider endorsement of educational, research, marketing or advocacy materials. In order to assist the Endorsement Committee in adjudicating such requests the following principles will be followed:

- i. The topic of an endorsement request should be on subject matter that is within the scope of the organization's mandate and the practice of urology within Canada.
- ii. Patient Information Committee Involvement: Requests for endorsement of educational materials that will be directed to patients should be reviewed by the Patient Information Committee (PIC) to ensure CUA-produced teaching materials are consistent with the endorsement request. The Endorsement Committee will also engage PIC in situations where the CUA does not have educational content on a particular topic. This would help to ensure the subject matter is relevant, and that the PIC is not in the process of producing materials with similar content.

In addition, requests for endorsement of educational materials or programs should not compete with those produced in the Office of Education.
- iv. Advocacy, EDIA, COI: Requests for endorsement of material to be used for patient or physician advocacy efforts should be reviewed by the Advocacy Committee.

Endorsement requests should be reviewed to ensure consistency with the CUA's policies on equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility. Should an endorsement request come forward and an Endorsement Committee member serves as a consultant, receives remuneration or has a leadership position with the 3rd party requesting the endorsement, the committee member should recuse themselves from deliberations.

- v. Co-branding educational materials: If a 3rd party asks to use or co-brand educational material produced by the CUA the following stipulations would apply:
 - a) The material should be made available in English and French translation.
 - b) The CUA endorsed information must be used without deletions, additions or changes to the content.
 - c) Full credit must be given to the CUA as the original source.

Endorsement requests should be reviewed to ensure consistency with the CUA's policies on equity, diversity, inclusion and accessibility. Should an endorsement request come forward and an Endorsement Committee member serves as a consultant, receives remuneration or has a leadership position with the 3rd party requesting the endorsement, the committee member should recuse themselves from deliberations.
